Open the Files app and select the Downloads category. Tap and hold the files you want to delete to select them. Tap the Trash icon. Android asks if you're sure you want to delete the selected files. Confirm that you do. Note: You can also use the Files app to delete unwanted images, videos, audio, and more. This article explains how to get rid of unwanted downloads on an Android device. It's not hard, but locating the files can be tricky if you don't know where to look. Every Android device has a specific app to manage your downloaded or saved files, but it may take a bit of searching to find, depending on your device. Here's how you browse through the different files you have. When you delete files on your Android device, they are gone permanently, so be sure you really do want to delete them completely before following these instructions. The app you are looking for is going to be called either Files or My Files, depending on the age of your device. To find the Files app, open the App Tray on your device. You may have to search a little. Look in a Tools folder if you don't see it directly on the App Tray. Inside the Files app, you can browse several different categories: images, videos, music, etc. From here, you can tap files to access them or tap and hold to select multiple files at once. Depending on the type of file, there are different actions you can take once you have multiple files selected. Pay a special note to the Documents section. If you've downloaded PDFs — tickets to an event, a restaurant menu, etc. — from a browser on your mobile device, they often just sit on your phone, taking up space. Downloads from your web browser are stored in your downloads file, so when you delete them directly from the file, there's no need to delete them from your browser. If you want to double check that, however, you can always open your web browser and go to Settings (usually represented by a three dot or three line menu icon) > Downloads to ensure all the files you want to delete are gone. Once you've selected the files you want to delete, tap Delete, which is usually represented by a trash can icon. You may be prompted to confirm you want to delete the files. Tap Delete or Yes, depending on your operating system, to permanently delete the files. Once you've found the Files app, deleting your files is a snap. Here's how you do it. Tap and hold your finger on the file you want to delete, then select either the Delete option or the Trash icon that appears. You can select multiple files to delete several at once. Each one should receive a check mark if you tap and hold down on it - check several of them before selecting delete to take care of many files at once. After you select to delete files, you will be prompted if you really want to delete those files. They are gone for good once you select OK, so make sure you've chosen wisely. Downloaded files can take up lots of space on your Android. If you've never installed an additional SD card or added space to your phone, that can be a valuable commodity! It's a good idea to clear out space every so often so you can download more of your favorite apps, music, and videos. Thanks for letting us know! If you've got an old Facebook Page that you don't want anyone to find, here's how you can unpublish (hide) your Facebook Page for a while, or delete it permanently. You can do this in two ways. You can unpublish your Facebook Page so that it doesn't show up in search or on anyone's news feed (but Page managers can still access it). If you're sure you don't want anything to do with a Page anymore, you can permanently remove your Facebook Page as well. How to Hide or Delete a Facebook Page on Website Even though most of the Facebook website has been updated to the new interface with dark mode, the Facebook Page settings are still in the Classic Facebook interface. Open the Facebook page that you want to delete, and click the "Page Settings" button. You'll now see the Facebook Page settings. It defaults to the General section. Here, if you simply want to hide your Facebook Page but you don't want to delete the page (along with all the posts and data), you can choose to unpublish it. From the top of the page, click the "Page Visibility" option. Here, click the radio button next to "Page Unpublished" option, and then click the "Save Changes" button. From the next screen, provide a reason for unpublishing your Facebook page, and click the "Next" button. Now, finally, click the "Unpublish" button to hide your Facebook page. You can go back to your page at any time and click the "Publish Page" button to unhide it in the future. If you want to delete your Facebook page, click the "Remove Page" option from the General section in Page Settings. Now, click the "Permanently Delete (Page Name)" button. Facebook will ask you if you're sure you want to do this. Here, click the "Delete" button. Facebook will now tell you that the page has been deleted. How to Hide or Delete a Facebook Page on App You can unpublish or delete a Facebook Page from your iPhone or Android smartphone as well. Open the Facebook page that you want to delete, and then tap the "Settings" icon from the top-right corner. Here, go to the "General" section. If you want to hide the page, go to the "Page Visibility" section, and just tap the "Unpublish" option. That's it. You can then go back to your page, and you'll see that it has been unpublished. To delete the page, tap the "Permanently Delete (Page Name)" option from the "Remove Page" section. From the next page, tap the "Delete Page?" button. The Facebook app will tell you that the page has been deleted. Just tap the "OK" button to go back. If you unpublished the page, you can come back at any time to publish it. Go to your Facebook page, scroll down, and tap the "Publish Page" button to unhide it. If you're done with Facebook, you can deactivate or delete your personal Facebook account as well. RELATED: How to Delete Your Facebook Account (Image credit: Laptop Mag) Knowing how to delete or disable apps on Android is incredibly helpful whether you want to declutter your phone or help improve performance. With millions of apps available on Google Play, it is easy to end up with a few too many on your phone. Those apps are all taking up space and can ultimately start slowing your phone down even if you never use them. There are a number of different ways to delete or disable apps on Android, here's a quick look at the best methods including how to get rid of some apps that may have come pre-installed on your phone or tablet. There are two methods for deleting apps on Android, both are quick and easy. However, there are slight variations depending on your phone brand and we'll cover that as well. So whether you have a phone from Samsung, Google, OnePlus or any other manufacturer, one of these options will work for you. (Image credit: Laptop Mag) How to delete apps on Android - Settings method Open Settings Tap on Apps & Notifications or Apps (Pixel and OnePlus) Select See all apps or App info Tap on the app that you would like to delete Select Uninstall and tap Ok when prompted That's it. The app and its data will be removed from your phone. If an app shows an option for Disable that means it is a pre-installed app that cannot be deleted entirely from your system. However, there are still advantages to disabling an app as it will no longer show in your App Drawer and it won't run in the background. So if it is an app you have not and will not use you should disable it using the same steps above. (Image credit: Laptop Mag) How to delete apps on Android - Home screen/App Drawer method Long press on the app that you want to delete (Samsung and OnePlus) Tap Uninstall or Disable Drag the app to the upper-right corner of your screen and release it so you can Uninstall Tap Ok when prompted That's it, the app and its data have been deleted from your phone. Today's best Google Pixel 6, Samsung Galaxy S22 and OnePlus 10 Pro deals In the Facebook app, tap the hamburger menu. Select Settings & Privacy > Settings > Account Ownership and Control. Tap Deactivation and Deletion > Delete account > Continue to account deletion. Tap Continue to account deletion again. Choose Delete Account. This article explains how to delete a Facebook account on an Android device and in a mobile browser. Unlike deactivating your account, which is temporary, deleting Facebook is permanent. If you want to rejoin, you'll have to create a new account. Before quitting Facebook, you might want to download your photos and export other data you want to keep. It takes only a few steps to delete your account, although Facebook will offer some alternatives to consider. Here's how to permanently delete Facebook from the Android app. Tap the hamburger menu in the upper-right corner (represented by three horizontal lines). Scroll down and tap Settings & Privacy. Select Settings. Scroll down to the Your Facebook Information section and tap Account Ownership and Control. Tap Deactivation and deletion. Select Delete account and Continue to account deletion. Choose a reason for deletion, or tap Continue to account deletion to skip that step. If you pick a reason, Facebook will offer an alternative to deletion, such as managing notifications, changing privacy settings, blocking or reporting people, getting help with security, and finding more friends. Facebook offers the option to deactivate your account instead if you want to continue using Messenger. You can save posts to your archive, downloading your information. It also shows you any apps you use Facebook to log in to and warns that those accounts could be deleted. Tap Delete Account to proceed. The process for deleting your account in a browser is slightly different: Go to Facebook.com in any mobile browser. Tap the menu symbol in the upper-right corner (three horizontal lines). Scroll down and tap Settings. Scroll down to Your Facebook Information, and tap Account Ownership and Control. Tap Deactivation and Deletion. Select Delete Account and Continue to Account Deletion. Choose a reason for deletion, or tap Continue to Account Deletion to skip that step. If you pick a reason, Facebook will offer an alternative to deletion, such as managing notifications, changing privacy settings, blocking or reporting people, getting help with security, and finding more friends. If you want to keep using Messenger, you can deactivate your account on the next screen. Facebook also offers the option to save posts to your archive by downloading your information. It also shows you any apps you use Facebook to log in to and warns that those accounts could be deleted. When you're ready to proceed, tap Delete Account. Thanks for letting us know!
